FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Welcome to the officials, players and supporters of Windsor for this Cherry Red Records Combined Counties League Division One match along with the referee Mark Rister and his assistants Micheal Wozneak and Reda Imane.

Being involved with Brook House is something like a roller-coaster. Certainly in the last few weeks, we have experienced all kinds of emotions.

During the August Bank Holiday weekend, we had a 4-4 draw at London Samurai Rovers on the Saturday. Two days later, we pulled off an amazing 6-1 away win against Staines & Lammas where Trey Pender-Brown bagged a hat-trick, taking his tally for the season so far to eight goals.

This success took us to fourth place in the table, which is one of the promotion play-off spots. However, we were brought down to earth on the last day of August when we travelled to Eversley & Caslifornia, who also have had a mixed start to the season. But the Hampshire side produced their best form of the season to record a 5-0 victory.

We need to bounce back from this setback when we take on Windsor this evening in a return clash of our first game of the campaign when we surrendered a lead to suffer a 3-2 defeat.

The fixtures for most of the season in Division One have been released although they only go up to the start of March. Therefore we are still waiting for the final month or so of games. Hopefully they will come in the near future.

The fixtures are listed on page eight of this programme and I would like to point out to our supporters that evening games at Farm Park kick off at 7.45pm.

COMBINED COUNTIES LEAGUE REVIEW

Windsor & Eton appear to be running away with the Cherry Red Records Combined Counties League Division One title, mirroring Amersham Town's success last season.

Playing at the original Windsor ground, they started the campaign with an excellent 3-0 victory at Penn & Tylers Green.

However, the Royalists suffered their only defeat to date when they went down 1-0 at Oxhey Jets.

This was a minor blip as Windsor & Eton are now in the middle of an excellent run of form, which sees them eight points clear of second placed Penn & Tylers Green.

On August Bank Holiday, they edged to a 1-0 win over derby rivals Windsor and on Saturday, they battled to a 2-1 away success over Colliers Wood United.

VISITING THE BROOK WINDSOR

Windsor have made a solid start to the season having won four and drawn two of their games in the Cherry Red Records Combined Counties League Division One.

This has placed them fifth place as we go into this evening's game.

They started the campaign with a 3-2 victory over Brook House, coming from behind.

Their form is encouraging after last season's struggles where they finished in the bottom half of the Division One table.

They continue to adjust to life at nearby Beaconsfield, playing their game at Holloways Park on a Friday evening, being involved in a three-way share agreement.

● Windsor play their home games at Holloways Park in Beaconsfield.

ESSENTIAL READING FOR FOLLOWERS OF THE NATIONAL GAME

To subscribe, visit www.thenonleaguefootballpaper.com/subscriptions

Almost two years have passed since it emerged that the EFL were ready to offer three promotion places to the National League as part of the 'New Deal for Football' — the proposed financial reset resulting in more Premier League funding for the lower leagues, which instead ended in deadlock, squabbling, self-interest and silence.

When Wrexham and Notts County were embroiled in their record-breaking battle for the National League title in 2022-23, a light was shone on the inequity of a structure that grants only two promotion places to the National League, but four to League Two.

And there are still faint hopes, perhaps, that the forthcoming independent regulator can force the hand of the EFL to right this wrong, but there's no shying away from the fact that, in the fight for 'three-up, three-down' momentum has ground to a standstill.

And yet it has become a familiar sight at this time of year to witness the National League's promoted clubs attacking League Two with the same sense of adventure that earned them a place in the Football League, despite the margins for error being gossamer-thin and narrower than pretty much any other league on the planet.

Chesterfield and Bromley's starts to this season have been no different, with Paul Cook's buccaneering Spireites side sweeping aside Crewe, last season's League Two playoff finalists, with a 5-0 win at Gresty Road last weekend, and Bromley, thanks to the sharp-shooting Michael Cheek, winning the opening two games of their first-ever EFL campaign.

That the teams joining League Two are good enough has never been in doubt. In the past ten seasons, the median finish for the National League champions and playoff winners has been 11th and 14th and, as I'm sure you are aware, no promoted team has been immediately relegated since the system of re-election came to an end in 1987.

It's not just fallen EFL giants like Bristol Rovers, Lincoln City, Tranmere Rovers, Wrexham, Notts County or Stockport who tend to hit the ground running, though: Harrogate Town and Sutton United thrived in their first season in League Two and, while gravity may pull them down eventually, to have won promotion from the National League you had to be a bloody good side.

This is the point. The status quo has shackled aspirational, dynamic clubs and rewarded mediocrity for far too long. For a change to be ratified, of course, there would need to be a vote of all 92 Premier League and EFL clubs, with 50% being the threshold for change. We've heard the line about 'turkeys voting for Christmas' enough already. Why should the National League be no more than a bargaining chip in money-hungry negotiations between the EFL and Premier League?

If you're reading these pages, you probably know that this has been a war decades in the waging. When automatic promotion and relegation was finally introduced between the old Fourth Division — now known as League Two — and non-league's top tier in 1986-87, Scarborough were the first non-league side to earn the right to play in the Football League via promotion, while Lincoln City became the first team to be relegated from Division Four. The National League had to wait another 16 years for a second promotion place to open up to the winner of a playoff, and two decades later the division remains an outlier for no discernible reason.
